A National Contest. It is very true that we proposed last year to adjourn readjustment until this year, and that we then claimed that we were engaged in a national contest and might well and ought to postpone State matters until 1881, when they would be in order.

But note these facts: We did not then know that General MAHONE would convert the contest of 1881 into a national one. We did not then know that he intended to act with the Republican party. We did not then know that a man who professed to be ns good a Democrat as any in Virginia, and who months afterwards claimed to be a better Democrat than BEN. HILL, would in October, 1881, be the dispenser of the patronage of a stalwart Republican Administration, or the ally of CAMERON, CONRLING, CHANDLER, and others of the bitterest enemies of the South. We did not then know that Brown, Hill, Bayard, Hamiton, Garland, Pendleton, Ranson, Vance, and all the other Democrats in the United States outside of Virginia would this year be found treating General Mabone as a political enemy and his party as the allies of the Radical Republicans of the North. We did not then know that General Mabone would vote for Conkling in Richard.

Deallos the summer of 1861 to May, 1862, covering community than he.

The grand jury yesterday and to-day presented a number of our merchants for falling to make their quarterly returns to the commissioner of the revenue, as required by law.

Ev. Dr. T. D. Witherspoon, of the Tabb-Street Presbyterian church, preached a special sermon on duelling on Sunday night before a large congregation. He took very strong ground against the morals of all laws, sacred and profane. CONKLING, CHANDLER, and others of the ral MAHONE would vote for CONELING in preference to RANSOM, or KELLOGG in preference to one of the best Democrats in the United States Senate.

If General Majors had continued to occupy this year the ground which he occupled last year, the contest now going on would have been a State contest. But this he did not do. He has abandoned his position whilst the Democrate now as them. sition, whilst the Democrats, now as then, book. declare and approve themselves to be a part of the regular national Democratic party of the United States.

One of the reasons why the pending const must be considered a national one is to be found in the fact that the Legislature which is to be elected on the 8th of election of members of the national House of Representatives. If General

There are doubless a few thousand whites of his party whose votes may be influenced by their opinions name of some correspondent in regard to a mense audience was shown in applau votes may be influenced by their opinions upon the debt question; but much the larger number of his followers will be negroes. If these would abstain from voting, the Democrats would beat General Mahone's party more than three to one. They will vote his ticket either as negroes or as Republicans, yet in either case as enemies of the national Democratic party. All true Democrats should, therefore, rally to mailed it. true Democrats should, therefore, rally to the standard of Daniel, Barbour, and McKinney, and show the so-called Readjusters that we know as well as they that we are engaged in a national contest.

Even the debt which Mississippi repudiated nearly forty-four years ago still knocks at the door of her treasury, and only a few months ago her people were considering the expediency or reporterly or necessity of paying a portion or all of it.

But that is not all, nor the best that can be said in favor of the fifty per cent, proposition in Minnesota. Both he matter of redstricting virginia and the Pumbers as to this matter of redstricting virginia. Both he matter. They could have shown a decident of the control of the nominee for House of Delegates, is making a vigorous campaign against his competitors, T. T. Laev, Readjuster, and W. L. Tinsley, Republican. The discussions are more than satisfactory. Lamb has beaten them wherever we have heard them. The people are on our side now. In New Kent county, once their stronghold, some of the most prominent Readjusters are with us—the presses of them indifferent about rethe masses of them indifferent about re-adjustment and many of them supporting Lamb, while the Republicans are divided between him and Tinsley and Lacy. Charles City is almost solid for us. From the present outlook Lamb's election is assured. If the same change has taken place in other Reddjuster districts as here, we must gain the General Assembly by a large majority. Their speakers are spiritless. The mention of their thread-bare theme arouses no enthusiasm, while our standard-bearer is greeted with cheers everywhere he speaks.
